

PRIVACY POLICY

Our obligations

The project "VetMedZg" of the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine University of Zagreb holds great importance of your privacy. The "VetMedZg" project has fully implemented the regulation of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), by the European Union law. Please read the privacy policy to find out how we collect process and save the information you have provided us by using the web page form "contact us". We collect various types of information, including information that identifies you as an individual (personal information). A more detailed explanation is given below.

What kind of information does the Project " VetMedZg " collect?

When you use our website, we collect the information you have decided to share with us. For example, in the "Contact Us" section, you share information with us. We can also collect information about your access device and the IP address through which you access the website. For more information on this section, please see the "Cookies and other tracking technologies" section below.

When you use the forms above, we collect information directly from you, such as your name, e-mail address, home address, and phone number for the purpose of providing the requested service.

How do we use the information?

When you share your information with us, we can use the information we receive to respond to your query in a timely manner, for example, with certain products and services or by contacting us. We also use data for administration and improvement of the website, as well as for analyzing the website for the purpose of monitoring the marketing or the popularity of certain parts of the website.

When using our services, we may use your information:

- To establish the required communication for the purpose of your query for a particular product. For example, when you send a query via contact form, the "VetMedZg" project collects the personal information you provided to continue communicating for commercial cooperation purposes.
- To contact you and respond to your enrollment in the "contact us" form
- When a user visits our site and clicks on a specific page, we collect anonymous information about the presence of specific subpages within our website (Google Analytics Tools).

Third party collaboration

We do not rent or sell your personal information to a third party. We do not share any personal information of our users with any third party.

Our employees are not entitled to use the personal information collected for the purpose of user collaboration with the project "VetMedZg."

Although it is unlikely, in case of obtaining a court order from the competent legislative body, the project "VetMedZg" will be obliged to provide the requested information to them. The "VetMedZg" project will take precautionary measures to ensure that the authorized body submits a legitimate reason for the requested information.

Security and privacy

The "VetMedZg" project keeps personal information from unauthorized disposal and access. The "VetMedZg" project uses organizational, technical, and physical security measures to protect the collected personal data.

Cookies and other tracking technologies

The information provided by these cookies help us understand how our users are using the website, with the purpose of improving the content quality of users and browsing experience. Optional cookies include Google Analytics cookies (whose cookies are tracking and analyzing the website performance, which are available as a statistical data for the "VetMedZg" project, without personal information of individual users) and social network cookies (such as Facebook) that allow the user to share a specific content through their own social network account.

When you first access a website, a label will appear that warns you of the existence of cookies and asks for your approval to accept them.

By continuing to browse the web site, you agree to the use of cookies.

A webpage user can always independently control (restrict or disable) receiving cookies by setting their web browser. Please note that disabling cookies can affect your functionality and your interaction with the site, and we exclude any liability for any loss of functionality and / or quality of the content of the website in all cases of selecting the cookie control regulation by the user.

For more information about configuring cookie browser settings, visit the following links:

- Learn more about private browsing and cookie settings in Firefox
- Here to read about the anonymous way of work and cookie settings in Google Chrome
- Read the "InPrivate" working settings and cookie settings in Internet Explorer here
- here for more information about the "Private navigation" mode and cookie settings in Safari

By using these websites, users will be deemed to be familiar with and comply with the terms of use at any time, including processing and personal data protection and cookie options.

What are my options?

You may decide not to share the requested information with us. Please note that certain information is required in order to receive feedback about the requested products or services as well as the response to your entry via the "contact us" form.

Access and updating your personal information

To view or update your personal information, contact era-chair@vef.hr to make sure it is correct. The VetMedZg Project will do its utmost to provide you with access to your requested information within 30 days of your access request and, if necessary, update, alter or completely delete your information. If for a certain reason we are unable to comply with your request within 30 days, you will be notified when the information is provided to you for inspection. While it is unlikely, if we are unable to share your requested information with you, you will be notified of the specific reason why we are unable to perform the requested insight.

Questions related to this privacy notice

If you have additional questions or any objection to the protection of your personal information, please contact us at era-chair@vef.hr. Any privacy query or complaint will be recorded and investigated and the results of the investigation will be ensured. If it is established that the objection is justified, all appropriate measures will be taken.